章节摘录

Hong Kong Disneyland is a theme park at Hong Kong Disneyland Resort. It was constructed by The Walt Disney Company and the Hong Kong Government on reclaimed land from the Pennys Bay, Lantau Island, Hong Kong, China. The park was officially opened to visitors at 13:00 local time on Monday, September 12, 2005; although VIPs and winners of a ticket lottery were allowed entry on a number of "test days" held before the grand opening. A unique feature of Hong Kong Disneyland is the widely use of two languages, English and Chinese (both in Traditional and Simplified forms) in its communication. On November 18, 2004, a special ceremony was held in the park to commemorate the placing of the tallest turret of Sleeping Beauty Castle. Present were Tung Chee Hwa, former Chief Executive of Hong Kong SAR; Jay Rasulo, president of Disney Parks and Resorts; Michael Eisner, CEO of the Walt Disney Company; and Mickey Mouse and other costumed characters. Hong Kong Disneyland has the shortest construction period among all Disneylands, possibly because it is the smallest Disneyland. The park features four themed lands similar to those at other Disney Parks: Main Street, USA; Adventureland; Fantasyland; and Tomorrowland. It will also feature a daily parade and nightly fireworks.
