《中国针灸测试》

内容概要

《中国针灸测试：英文》内容简介：This is a well-arranged medical tele-consultation program developed by a private team of Chinese experts from the top TCM research center, China Academy of Traditional Chinese Medicine and its affiliated Guanganmen Hospital in Beijing, for overseas clients who seek complementary medical information and treatments.

It is our goal to provide our clients with quality and timely services in all aspects of TCM. We also believe that through this kind of communication, our foreign colleagues who will use this system may exchange with our Chinese experts some academic ideas on real cases in the hope of upgrading their TCM skills.

To better understand a case's present health condition, we need those doctors or practitioners who will cooperate with us to complete our medical record either in English or Chinese. All the information in the medical records will be carefully studied by our experts, and a feedback including a diagnosis, recommended TCM treatments (herbal and acupuncture prescriptions), suggestions of health care, etc. will be available within a couple of days. If you need and your doctor or practitioner agree with the treatment plan, we can even arrange delivery of the herbal medicine directly from our hospital.
