内容概要

This book is not simply a book of images. This is an object that overturns and subverts the strict and codified rules about the use of images. They are author's photos about different and heterogeneous subjects. They are realized during many years of research by the designer photographer Marco Morosini, and he decided to let them at everybody's disposal, simply getting them from the enclosed CD. This No copyright wants to represent a creative incentive with the awareness that ideas feed on ideas and these surreal, comical and concocted images can and must create others new and interesting images.
