章节摘录

When Mrs Li Got a Cold Mrs Li got a bad cold and lay in bed. It was after lunch. Both of the elder children were at school, and the little one was sleeping. Her head was hot and feet were cold. She didnt know how long she slept. She heard the children come. "Havent you got up yet? What about dinner?" they asked.

Mr Li came from his work. He looked tired. Mrs Li started worrying about them. She said, "Its nothing, I can get up and do the cooking..." But Mr Li told her to stay there and he would get along fine. Then there was much noise in the kitchen. Something was broken and Mr Li shouted, "Get the little one away!" The children came into her bedroom. They told her that father broke a glass while doing washing-up, and couldnt find the fish when he wanted it for cooking. At once, Mrs Li thought she had to get up and she felt since she was better she could get up.
