章节摘录

As far as clothes are concerned , how can we decide what is fashionable what is unfashionable ? How do we decide what to wear ? Do we go by the latest fashion trends and become fashion victims , or do we stick to what we know looks good on us ? Tough choice ! The idea of fashion in the 21st century refers mostly to high-heeled shoes , handbags , sports suits , designer jeans and ripped jeans. Jeans are a choice for many people , as they are easy to suit , practical and comfortable. Although most of the jeans are made from denim , they may also come in a variety of other fabrics. Jeans are most popular with teenagers , but they are now gaining popularity with other age categories as well. At their origin , the jeans were work clothes , but they began to be worn outside work places at the middle of the 20th century when they became popular among other social categories. When most people think of jeans , they think of a casual way of dressing. The choice of color and style is a very wide one. Nowadays jeans come in so many styles that it is virtually impossible not to find at least one pair of jeans that will suit you perfectly. But jeans don't vary on color alone : There are also various types of jeans according to the fits. The jeans' fits can go from straight or loose to slim , baggy or skinny , from high-waisted to super low-waisted. One thing is for sure , jeans will never be unfashionable. A certain style will always be developed in order to keep up with the latest trends in fashion. So , if you want to be fashionable , but also comfortable , a pair of jeans is a safe choice.
